FALL ACTIVITIES 2025 CONTINUED

Cornerstone Day

September 26 & 27

The Henry Ford

On September 27, 1928, Henry Ford invited his friend and mentor Thomas Edison to dedicate the cornerstone of his new museum. This established what would eventually become The Henry Ford we know and love today. Our annual celebration of Cornerstone Day aims to continue the institution's progress far into the future. This year, we're focusing on "A Decade of Impact" as we celebrate all the wonderful things made possible by donations over the last 10 years. Join us for special tours, talks and other activities that highlight these exhibitions and achievements.

Manufacturing Day

October 3

Ford Rouge Factory Tour

The first Friday of each October is Manufacturing Day, a celebration of manufacturing and the ways it impacts our lives and communities. Join us at Ford Rouge Factory Tour to explore the Dearborn Truck Plant and enjoy supplementary activities and materials that amplify the tour's focus on manufacturing. Tours depart from Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation, with the last bus leaving at 3 p.m.
